

Young Women Writers Project

2020

The Carnegie Center invites young women in grades 9-12 to apply to the Young Women Writers Project, a FREE series of intensive workshops focused on creative self-expression through writing. The selected group of participants will attend six sessions (see below). In these workshops, experienced writers in their 20s and 30s will mentor on a variety of genres, encouraging participants to look within themselves for issues that are important in their lives. Participants will also learn techniques of delivering an effective literary reading and other business-of-writing tips. The program will culminate with two public readings and a Writing Mentoring Day.

WHERE & WHEN: All sessions take place from 10:00 am-2:00 pm at the Carnegie Center for Literacy and Learning (251 West Second Street, in downtown Lexington, KY). Participants must commit to attending all six sessions.

February 22: Writing from the Heart: #Ownvoices Tales Inspired by Real Life with Mariama Lockington

February 29: Creative Non-Friction: Political Humor Writing with Asha French

March 7: Creative Nonfiction: Essays, Magazine Writing and Beyond with Saraya Brewer

March 14 : How to Build A Better World....In Your Writing with Olivia Cole

March 21: The Things We Don't Say Out Loud: Performing Your Work with Angelica Miller

March 28: POC: Poets of Color with Danni Quintos

MENTORING DAY: Participants will be required to attend a Writing Mentoring Day at a local elementary school (typically one weekday in April from 3-5pm; exact date/time TBD). The Carnegie Center can provide a letter to schools requesting early dismissal if needed. Participants will work in pairs, small groups, or individually on creative writing exercises with 4th and 5th grade girls. Cash stipends are provided for Mentoring Day participation.

PUBLIC READINGS: Participants will be invited to showcase their writing talents in two public readings (May 2020 & September 2020 during the Kentucky Women Writers Conference). Participation in the public readings is not mandatory, but strongly encouraged. Cash stipends are provided for participation in the May reading.

COST: There is NO application or participation fee. Students admitted to the program will receive full scholarships covering all instruction and materials. Participants are asked to bring their own bag lunches, as lunch will not be provided. The Young Women Writers Project is funded in part by the Kentucky Foundation for Women and Toyota Motor Manufacturing KY.

ADMISSION: To be considered for the Young Women Writers Project, please submit the following:

- a completed cover sheet (below);
- a letter stating your interest and motivations for participation;
- a writing sample (5 pages maximum);
- a photo/video release form (if you do not give permission for us to use your photo, please make a note on the form)

Application should be postmarked by or hand-delivered to the Carnegie Center by 5:00pm on FRIDAY, JANUARY 17.

Selection will be limited to 15 Young Women Writers. Applicants will be notified no later than February 1. For more information, contact Sarah at sarah@carnegiecenterlex.org or 859-254-4175, ext. 27.
